

HELP US SOLVE THE SUPPLY CHAIN TALENT GAP!

APICS is excited to announce the 2019 APICS Case Competition, which is presented in collaboration with Deloitte Consulting LLP. Participating teams will present solutions to a complex and challenging supply chain management problem, competing with students from across the globe for prize money and recognition.

APICS is proud of a rich tradition of student team case competitions. The program began as a grassroots event, with many APICS chapters, colleges, and universities taking part. Over the years, the APICS Case Competition has evolved into a flagship event touching students at universities across North America, as well as in Africa, Asia, Europe and South America.

As a sponsor of the APICS Case Competition you will enjoy an array of opportunities to connect and engage with the next generation of supply chain leaders as they work to address real-world inspired business challenges. We've identified the most valuable touch points for high-level networking with conference attendees, along with prominent brand exposure and exclusive opportunities to align your organization directly with the program. Opportunities include:
